District Judge Clark Waddoups

Magistrate Judge Brooke C. Wells

This matter is before the Court for consideration of the parties' competing Motions for a Scheduling Order.¹ On 9/23/2016, the Court granted Plaintiff's motions for leave to amend the Complaint and granted in part and denied in part Plaintiff's motion for a scheduling order.² The Court instructed the parties to meet and confer and submit a stipulated amended scheduling order.³ The parties have met and conferred but have been unable to stipulate to a scheduling order. The Court instructed the parties to "provide for all remaining deadlines, including a four month fact discovery period."⁴

The parties each submitted their proposed scheduling order. Plaintiffs detailed their deadlines and provided for a four month fact discovery period.⁵ Defendants' proposed order left a number of items "To be determined" and provided substantively only for their own renewed motion for summary judgment and for a four month fact discovery period.⁶ After review of both proposed orders, the Court will GRANT Plaintiffs' Motion for a Scheduling Order⁷ and DENY Defendants' Motion for a Scheduling Order.⁸ Therefore, the following Scheduling Order shall govern this case.
